FOUNDATION

Before the plan — understand each other's limits and strengths.

PARENT A

My name

My biggest struggle with sleep deprivation

My best time-of-night shift (I handle nights better at...)

My hard limit — hours I absolutely need to function

My signal that I need relief URGENTLY

How I best receive support from my partner

PARENT B

My name

My biggest struggle with sleep deprivation

My best time-of-night shift (I handle nights better at...)

My hard limit — hours I absolutely need to function

My signal that I need relief URGENTLY

How I best receive support from my partner

Our Conflict-Free Night Rules

PARTNERSHIP

Agreed together, signed together. No amendments after 9 PM.

THE SEVEN RULES WE BOTH AGREE TO

1. No sleep-deprivation decisions after midnight — escalate to morning.
2. Whoever was on the previous shift speaks first. The other listens completely.
3. Name feelings before naming problems: 'I feel _ when _.'
4. If tone escalates — pause 60 seconds. Resume when both are calm.
5. Disagreements about the method wait until daytime. Night = execute the plan.
6. One person handles each waking. No double-intervention unless agreed.
7. Credit out loud: 'You did great last night.' Say it. Mean it.

Our Own Rule (add one together)

Our Agreed Sleep Method This Week

Circle one. Do not change it mid-week.

- ☐ Extinction (CIO)
No returns after crib placement. Hold firm together.
- ☐ Ferber / Graduated
Timed check-ins. Agree on intervals in advance.
- ☐ Chair Method
One parent stays. Move the chair every 2–3 nights.
- ☐ Fading
Gradual reduction. Slow and steady — be patient together.
- ☐ Pick Up / Put Down
Consistent pick-up / calm / put-down. Agree on count.

We agree to these rules. Signed:

The Perfect Handoff Protocol

OPERATIONS

A clean shift handoff prevents 3 AM arguments. Use this every time.

Before You Hand Over — Check Every Box

- ☐ Last waking time noted in the log
- ☐ Baby's current state (asleep / unsettled / just fed)
- ☐ Time of most recent feed
- ☐ White noise confirmed on
- ☐ Room confirmed dark and at correct temp
- ☐ Monitor charged / positioned
- ☐ Your partner is briefed — not guessing

Tonight's Handoff Note

Leave this for your partner before you sleep.

Last feeding:

Baby's mood / state:

Anything my partner needs to know:

What to Say Instead of Fighting

Pre-agreed language for hard moments:

Instead of: 'Why didn't you go in?'

Say: 'Can you take the next one? I'm running empty.'

Instead of: 'You never help.'

Say: 'I need you to own tonight. I need sleep urgently.'

Instead of: 'You're doing it wrong.'

Say: 'Let's check the plan together in the morning.'

Instead of: 'I'm so exhausted.'

Say: 'Sleep deprived. I need relief in __ hours. Can you?'

Our Shared Sleep Promise

COMMITMENT

A commitment to your baby — and to each other.

We commit, together:

- ☐ We will decide the method together and not change it without a daytime conversation.
- ☐ We will keep the bedtime routine in the same order, every night, no shortcuts.
- ☐ We will log every night waking so we are both working from the same reality.
- ☐ We will do the daily 2-minute check-in, even when we're too tired to want to.
- ☐ We will credit each other out loud — especially on the hard nights.
- ☐ We will not argue about the method after 9 PM.
- ☐ We will not wake a sleeping partner unless absolutely necessary.
- ☐ We will celebrate every win, no matter how small, and write it in the Win Wall.
- ☐ We will remember: we are not fighting each other. We are fighting sleep deprivation.
